

Improving Mental Health and Wellbeing of People with Intellectual Disability

A Research to Action Day for Professionals and Carers

Launched by the Hon. Tanya Davies MP, Minister for Mental Health

3DN at UNSW is launching new must-have practical tools and resources designed to enhance the skills of professionals and carers who support people with an intellectual disability.

Join us for a day of interactive workshop activities, connect with other professionals and carers and see how these new tools can help you in your role!

Who is it for: Health and mental health professionals, allied health professionals, disability professionals, family and carers, advocates, and carer organisations with an interest in intellectual disability.

When: 25 July 2017, 9.30am – 4.15pm (Registration from 9am)

Where: Tyree Room, John Niland Scientia Building, UNSW Sydney

Cost: Free - this event is kindly sponsored by NSW Health, and Ageing, Disability & Home Care, Family & Community Services

Register: https://research_to_action_2017.eventbrite.com.au

Contact ddd@unsw.edu.au for more details