

APNA Local Nurse Networks

Are you a Nurse or Midwife working in primary health care?

APNA supports a network in your local area where primary health care nurses are able to meet regularly, to build relationships, share knowledge, create local professional development opportunities and share experience.

Could you benefit from networking opportunities in your area?

Do you want to:

- Reduce your isolation
- Expand your knowledge
- Share your skills and expertise
- Find peers to discuss everyday practice issues

For more information about your nearest network contact:
