

TEAM BASED CARE WORKSHOP

Improving care, quality and efficiency in practice

Sydney North Health Network (SNHN) invites local GPs, Practice Nurses and Allied Health Professionals to a workshop which will focus on developing a team-based approach to patient care to improve patient outcomes, experience and increase job satisfaction for the healthcare team. High performing primary care practices are finding that creating more effective practice teams is the key to becoming a patient-centred medical home, improving patients' health, and increasing productivity.
