

Social Housing Services in Northern Sydney

Link Housing, SGCH and Bridge Housing with Women's Housing Company are working collaboratively to lead the social housing system in Northern Sydney

Community housing providers, Link Housing, SGCH and Bridge Housing in partnership with Women's Housing Company, have taken over the management and coordination of the social housing service system in Northern Sydney as the NSW Department of Communities and Justice (formerly the Department of Family and Community Services) has transferred the delivery of housing services under the Social Housing Management Transfer program.

Working together

We work together to ensure there is a consistent and transparent approach to social housing service delivery in Northern Sydney. This means:

- People seeking housing advice and assistance receive clear information on their eligibility for products and services regardless of the community housing provider they visit
- We respond to the range of client needs and act as the 'primary contact service' for clients who apply for assistance through our service unless it is more appropriate for another community housing provider to assume that role
- We work collaboratively and in partnership with the broader service system to ensure vulnerable applicants and tenants receive the services they need to sustain their tenancies and achieve their goals
- We work together to advocate and develop more social and affordable housing to meet housing need.

Tenancy services

Link Housing, SGCH and Bridge Housing in partnership with Women's Housing Company each manage a portfolio of social housing tenancies in Northern Sydney:

Provider	LGAs	Portfolio of tenancies (rounded)
Link Housing	Hornsby, Hunters Hill, Ku-ring-gai, Lane Cove, Mosman, Northern Beaches, North Sydney, Ryde, Willoughby	3,400
SGCH	Hunters Hill, Lane Cove, North Sydney, Willoughby	1,400
Bridge Housing in partnership with Women's Housing Company	Mosman, Northern Beaches	1,200

A key focus of our approach to tenancy management services is working in partnership with a range of local services to support social housing tenants to sustain their tenancies and improve their health and wellbeing. We each have a team of dedicated staff that work with tenants to link them to services and promote community development health and wellbeing activities.

Housing assistance and Private Rental Products
