Child and Family Community Nursing

General Practice-Community Liaison Nurse: Child and Family Health

The focus of the Northern Sydney Local Health District (NSLHD) General Practice-Community Liaison Nurse: Child and Family Health role is assistance with the facilitation of information sharing, care planning and development of referral pathways to promote a continuum of care for families between General Practice and Child and Family Health (CFH) services, particularly for vulnerable children and their families

SERVICES PROVIDED

- Face to face consultations
- Telehealth phone and consultations
- Case consultations
- Facilitation of communication and collaboration with service providers involved in a family's care

TARGETED FAMILIES

- Pregnant women and families with infants and children from birth to 5 years residing within the Northern Sydney area
- Families with a need for additional referral or support following identification of psychosocial vulnerabilities/risk factors including complex mental health issues or domestic violence
- Families that have difficulty accessing services due to cultural factors, disadvantage or isolation including Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander families; refugees; asylum seekers
- Parents/caregivers with a disability or a child with a disability
- Caregivers of children in Out of Home Care

SERVICE ROLE

- Access to a central referral point for NSLHD CFH Services
- Support and coordination of patient care
- Facilitation of links, referrals and support to other service providers, particularly for children and families with complex needs
- Improved communication and collaboration with other services involved in a patient's care
- Additional support for general practice clinicians when complex family psychosocial vulnerabilities including child at risk of harm issues are identified
