

NADA Conference 2023: Creating safe spaces

Join us at NADA Conference 2023: Creating safe spaces, to be held on 11–12 May at the ICC Sydney. Showcasing interventions designed to improve outcomes for clients, this event will inform with new ideas, engage with the evidence base and provide networking opportunities.

Abstracts are now open

NADA invites abstract submissions for oral presentations, workshops, symposium and poster presentations. This is an opportunity for you to showcase your innovative practice or research. Abstracts must be submitted by 5pm, Friday 20 January 2023. No extensions to the deadline will be granted.

We encourage workers and services across all sectors to submit an abstract. Interactive and practice-focused sessions are encouraged to maximize opportunities for conference participants to exchange practice and experience.

Conference themes

Presentations may focus on any topic related to the conference theme, Creating Safe Spaces.

The theme aims to highlight sector achievement and innovation, with a focus on:

- worker wellbeing
- cultural safety
- consumer engagement and peer work
- connection and collaborative practice
- the strength of communities of practice
- increasing inclusion and equity.

NADA encourages presentation proposals from people who are working with or identify as part of communities (including but not limited to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples, culturally and linguistically diverse communities, gender and sexuality diverse communities, and individuals with lived experience). NADA also encourages all presentations to consider the needs and perspectives of these populations. See abstracts information and guidelines.

Announcing keynote speakers

Dr Vikki Reynolds

Professor Jioji Ravulo

Felicity Ryan

Contact us

All enquiries should be sent to conference@nada.org.au